```
∨ OPEN EDITORS
                                         🌵 app.py > ...
                                           1 from flask import Flask
     X 🏺 app.py
                                           2 app=Flask(__name__)
                           C1 C7 U 6
    ∨ FLASKEXAMPLES
                                           3 @app.route("/")
     app.py
                                           4 def home():
                                                 return "<h1>Welcome to flask</h1>"
                                              @app.route("/courses")
                                           7 def courses():
                                                  return "<h1>welcome to courses</h1>"
9 if __name__='__main__':
                                                 app.run(debug=True)
0
```